THIS MONTH'S COVER: View from Watermead towards Cooper's Hill

St George's Friendship Club extends the hand of friendship to everyone, irrespective of faith, race, age or gender. We meet at 10am on the first Tuesday of the month, we meet for around an hour and enjoy a cuppa or coffee and a biscuit, and occasionally we get a home make cake!

We chat about everything and anything, I was recently educated on what Forced Rhubarb is and that Yorkshire is famous for growing it – and I'm from Yorkshire! We also chat about what the grandchildren are up to, TV shows, films that we love, and how my granny cooked on an open range cooker because she didn't have an electric cooker until the early 1990's and there was no gas to the village.

Do you have any stories you could come along and share?

You are welcome to pop in for a quick cuppa or come for an hour whatever you can manage. There is no charge. We love meeting new people and hearing your stories.

Why not come along and try us out. The next few dates are 1st October, 5th November, 3rd December, and 7th January in St. George's Church centre.

WORSHIP NIGHTS

Every other Wednesday
7:20pm for 7:30pm start
8:10pm finish

Join us in the Church Centre for 30 minutes of contemporary (aka loudish!) worship, followed by 10 minutes for silent, or requested, prayer.

Feel free to sit and be still, sing, pray, walk around, soak in His presence; the time is yours to do as you wish.

The purpose of these evenings is to create space to worship God freely.

Our prayer is that you'll leave feeling blessed and refreshed.

Any questions? Please speak to Chris & Claire

Brockworth Children's Summer Programme.

For the first time St. George's joined forces with Brockworth Link and the United Reform Church to provide a Children's Summer Programme; safe, fun, and inclusive activities for the families of Brockworth.

The summer programme gave us the opportunity to reach out to our local community and share God's love by offering activities to engage, entertain, and feed our young people free of charge.

The programme was a great success building relationships and connections within the local community.

During the month of August, we offered ...

15 events; activity sessions, face painting, forest school, donkey rides, art and craft sessions and a Glow in the Dark disco (a significant achievement for the middle of summer!)

14 volunteers helped and loved meeting and reconnecting with local friends and families.

We welcomed 226 children 4-11 year olds from Brockworth & 16 young adults 10-15 year olds.

And we couldn't ignore the stars of the show donkeys!

The donkey rides and forest school were by far the most loved events with all guests saying they would love to do it again.

It is wonderful and rewarding to see the excitement and joy from all our guests and children, but even more rewarding to see children grow in confidence throughout the Sportily games.

A massive thank you to all the people and organisations that made this happen.

2.30 pm From Darkness to Light
In the Church Centre

At our October meeting, Rev'd Meg Heywood will be our speaker.

Meg is an experienced educator, serving in parishes in Oxford Diocese.

When living in Cheltenham, over thirty years ago, Meg started a group at the church she attended, aimed mainly for women. That group still meets and many friendships that flourished there are still enjoyed. On retirement, Meg and her husband David, another clergy person, chose Gloucestershire as their retirement home.

All welcome, do come along

Empower Her Literacy

This is the Mothers' Union new campaign, aiming to work towards enabling many people to become literate.

480 million in the world are illiterate, many women are unable to register their children's births or read health instructions.

Merciful God, grant people the opportunity to learn to read and write. Give thanks for those who help support those wishing to learn and soften the hearts of those who prevent people accessing education.

"Your Word is a lamp to our feet." Amen

The Food Larder Brockworth

There's a song that goes, 'When I needed a neighbour were you there, were you there?'well the answer is yes, you were.

So, we thank you for the donations we've received recently including some from local Harvest Festival celebrations.

You may be interested to know that the Food Larder Brockworth, opened as a local shop in early 2022. It's run by a team of local volunteers and began by operating out of the kitchen at the Community Centre until it moved to its current location of a container, by the Centre, in December that year.

Since then, folk have come and done their shopping, week in, week out, like most of us do.....and so with that in mind, please consider keeping your donations coming!

Thank you all from the Food Larder folk.

Ladies Evening

Do come and join us for our next
Ladies evening which will be held on Friday

1st November

(not 26th October as previously advertised)

from 6.30pm

In the Church Centre

It will be a very informal
Bring and Share supper

We look forward to another happy evening and hope you can come along and enjoy it with us.

Knit and Stitch

Our Knit and Stitch group is steadily growing, but is still small enough for everyone to chat to each other whilst knitting, crocheting or sewing.

Some members have on-going projects for charity, but we are all going to knit or stitch decorations for a tree at the Christmas Treefest which starts this year on December 6th.

We'd love you to come and join us. We meet on the 3rd Tuesday of each month, so the next one is on October 15th at 10am. We enjoy a coffee, tea and a biscuit or two, all free of charge, and a good old natter. Hope to see you!

PS. If anyone has unwanted buttons, we can use them on twiddle muffs for folk with dementia. Thank you .

Friendship club

Churchyard Tidy Ups

If you enjoy gardening - we need you!
Everyone welcome.

Saturday 26 October 2024

9:30am-12:30pm

(Meet at the front of the church building)

The garden around the church needs a regular tidy up 2-3 times a year, and we're desperate for willing people from the community to join our cheery team.

Tools are helpful to bring but not essential.

No gardening experience needed.

Wheelbarrows and brooms are especially useful.

Children must be supervised at all times,
and all jobs are undertaken at your own risk.

A rough idea of who is turning up is helpful, so if you're planning on joining us, please let either Pat Hartwell or Claire Sandys know or email garden@stgeorgesbrockworth.org. 😊

Prayer

O God, help us today to think of the feelings of others as much as we think of our own. If we know there are things which annoy those people with whom we live and work, help us not to do them; if there are things which would please them, help us to go out of our way to do them.

Help us to think before we speak, so that we may not thoughtlessly or tactlessly hurt or embarrass anyone else.

If we differ with anyone, help us to do so with courtesy; if we argue with anyone, help us to do so without losing our tempers. If we have to find fault with anyone, help us to do so with kindness; if anyone has a fault to find with us, help us to accept it with good grace,

And so, help us through this and every day to treat others as we would wish them to treat us, through Christ our Lord, Amen.

A prayer her mother lived by.

Lament for Creation

All things bright and beautiful

All creatures great and small,

All things wise and wonderful

The Lord God made them all.

The purple headed mountains

The rivers running by

Are filled with deadly toxins

Cascading from the sky.

All things bright and beautiful...

Each little flower that opens

Each little bird that sings

Is tainted with the plastic

We've thrown into our bins.

All things bright and beautiful...

The typhoons in the winter

The burning summer sun

The changes in the climate

Have only just begun

All things bright and beautiful...

The rich man at his castle

The poor man at the gate

All humans high and lowly

Will suffer the same fate.

All things bright and beautiful

Just for fun

A man goes into a cinema with his dog to watch a film.

It's a romantic comedy and when there's a funny scene the dog starts laughing. A little later on there is a sad part and suddenly the dog starts crying.

This goes on throughout the film, laughing and crying in all the right places. A man sitting a few rows back has witnessed the entire thing and decides to follow the man out. In the foyer, he approaches the dog owner and says,

"That dog is truly amazing!"

"It certainly is" the dog owner replied, "He hated the book!"

Can you give Ellie a loving home?

Ellie needs someone to look after her for several months, starting sometime soon.

She is 10 years old, very quiet, loves company and enjoys a wander in the garden where she loves to sit and to sleep.

Ellie is up to date with all her vaccinations and we will be happy to help financially with her keep and will take care of any unforeseen veterinary expenses.

If you think you may be able to help or would like to know more about Ellie, then please call Phil on 01452 690936.

My Favourite Hymns: Calon Lan (Pure Heart)

Listening to Songs of Praise at the beginning of August, the singing of the famous Welsh Hymn Calon Lan brought back many memories of hearing this Hymn always sung in Welsh before the start of Rugby matches at the Millenium Stadium “Calon” is the Welsh word for “heart”, while “glen” means clean. The overall meaning of “Calon lân” refers to a heart that is pure – so, basically, “A Pure Heart” The meaning of the song Calon Lân is about the desire to live a pure, honest life and not to live a life of luxury or material wealth. As the lyrics of the hymn clearly express, the meaning of life is thought to be an honest heart, full of joy, that is much more fulfilling than a life of worldly possessions. The hymn could be seen as an expression of the desire to live a virtuous life, free from the temptations and trappings brought by capitalism.

The final verse mentions God, which connects the song with its original incarnation as a hymn. During the Welsh Christian Revival of 1904-5, the song was thought to express a spiritual desire and longing for personal holiness or salvation.

Wales is often known as the Land of Song so the lyrics about “singing the day and singing the night” might be particularly important to the Welsh, who find a great source of joy and community from singing.

So, dear readers what do we know about the author? It was originally written as a hymn in the early 1890s by Daniel James who wrote the Calon Lân lyrics and John Hughes the tune. Daniel James was one of five children and was born on 23rd January 1848 and lived in Llangyfelach Road, Trenoeth Swansea. John Hughes was born in 1872 in Pen y Bryn, Pembrokeshire and he composed and harmonised the tune at the invitation of Daniel James.

Although Calon Lân has been translated into English (and many other languages) it is almost always sung in Welsh, so for non-speaking Welsh here is the English translation:

I do not ask for a luxurious life,
The world's gold or its fine pearls,
I ask for a happy heart,
A truthful heart, a pure heart.

Chorus:

A Pure Heart, that's full of goodness,
Fairer than the delicate Lily:
Only a pure heart can sing,
Sing the day and sing the night.

Chorus

If I desired worldly riches,
It would swiftly go to seed:
The riches of a virtuous, pure heart,
Will reap eternal profit.

Chorus

Late and morning my wish,
Rising to heaven on the wing of song,
So to my God for the sake of my saviour,
Give to me a pure heart.

Another translation worth looking at, which might more accurately capture the original time and formality of the hymn as well as its rhyming nature, is written by Rees Harris.

Allan Delves

P.S. Rona and Gordon any comments?
Have you sung this hymn in Welsh?
Mwynhau!

OCTOBER

Contribute to wildlife conservation. Clean bird feeders to prevent diseases spreading to winter migrants. Install a nest box well before breeding season to provide a cosy retreat for small birds during cold winter nights. Prepare to support more birds next year, with more tips at arocha.org.uk/give-a-bird-a-home. As you observe the local birds reflect on this verse, 'I know every bird in the mountains, and the insects in the fields are mine.' Psalm 50:11.

ALL SOUL'S DAY

is a day traditionally set apart by the Christian Church as a time to pause and remember those who have died.

On

SUNDAY 20TH OCTOBER at 6PM

in St George's C/Centre we will be holding our traditional

ALL SOULS' SERVICE

During a time of prayer, we will mention by name all those whose funerals have been conducted by our Clergy in the last year, together with any other names given.

Later in the service, everyone present will be invited to light a candle in memory of their loved ones and leave it burning as a visible sign of remembrance.

We hope that the service will be a fitting tribute to those we love, but see no longer.

All are welcome to attend.

If you wish for any names to be read out during this service, there is a list in church to complete or please email or phone the church office by Monday 14th October.

Recycle and raise money for our charities.

We collect::

Used greetings cards for the Cobalt Unit

Used postage stamps for The James Hopkins Trust.

Old or broken jewellery for The Alzheimer's Society

Old spectacles for Sightsavers

Ink cartridges for LINC

Please remember we can no longer collect medicine blister packs or milk bottle tops

There are some boxes in the Church porch for some of these items or they can be taken to the Church office in the Church centre, Monday – Friday, 9.30 – 11.30am

Thank you for your support.

The Messenger, October 2024

Bishop Rachel on prison reform – an exclusive for The Messenger

“Prisons have been in the headlines a lot this summer. The criminal justice system is on its knees with overcrowding. Victims of crime are not being well served by this system and prisoners are leaving jail without having been rehabilitated.

“Most people simply see prison as punishment and accept the popular narrative that locking people up will make our streets safer, even though the evidence does not support this.

“I do not believe we are asking the right questions. We need to consider what prisons are for, and how we build stronger communities.

“People often talk about the revolving door of prisons because those serving short sentences for often non-violent crimes, often return to custody within a year. Going to prison for less than a year rarely offers rehabilitation but does huge damage to family ties, housing and job prospects.

“We’ve seen so called ‘swift justice’ following the riots and unrest in many communities this summer. While people do need to bear the consequences of their actions, we surely want to be enabling the creation of stronger communities and I don’t believe that sending many of the offenders to prison will achieve this, but will simply lead to greater fracture, which will not be good for victims, offenders, families and wider society.

“Neither will it address many of the underlying issues. We need to be much more creative and put resources into more and better community sentencing as well as looking upstream.

“As Anglican Bishop for Prisons, I hope for a better system, and it is a privilege to visit prisons, hear people’s stories, and thank committed chaplains and prison officers who make such a big difference. Many faith communities and charities already help resettle prison-leavers into the community as well as facilitate alternatives to custody which tackle addiction and help people turn their lives around.

“If we believe that at the heart of the gospel is reconciliation and transformation, then Christians are well placed to get involved with prison and probation work, including welcoming prison leavers to our worshipping communities. There is much more that can be done.”

The Welcome Directory

When people are released from prison, they often find themselves in need of community. While many people are able find or renew their faith while they are in prison, sadly only 1 in 5 people go on to join a faith community when they are released.

The Welcome Directory helps worshipping communities to safely connect with prisoners who are released and offer a safe space without judgement or rejection. Being welcoming, accepting and safe can transform people's lives and help them to build confidence as they rebuild their lives.

If your worshipping community is interested in applying to be part of the Welcome Directory, visit www.welcomedirectory.org.uk.

Consider getting involved with the work of Prison Fellowship <https://prisonfellowship.org.uk/>.

Holding the key podcast: Marc Conway shares how IPPs take away hope

Bishop Rachel has released the third episode of her podcast series, which discusses the purpose of prison sentences and the possible alternatives.

Bishop Rachel is the Anglican Bishop for HM Prisons in England and Wales. In this podcast she spoke with Marc Conway about serious issues with the criminal justice system, and outdated IPP laws.

Marc Conway is the CEO at Fair Justice, an organisation which aims to get the voices of those who live and work within the criminal justice system, out and into the public.

He tells us, “I’ve been speaking with someone who got a two-year IPP [type of open-ended prison sentence] for stealing a mountain bike, because they pushed the person off, it was classed as a robbery; and they’ve been in prison for 18 years.”

He continues, “When I explain this to people who are naive about it and I say, ‘What country do you think that happens in?’, they all say ‘America’ or ‘Russia’, and I say, ‘Actually no it’s happening here in the UK’.

“Ninety-one people who are serving that sentence have died by suicide. What that does to someone, when you’re serving that [open-ended] sentence, is it takes away hope.”
